

WHAT DOES CPLA DO?

- Regional Workshops in Library Leadership and Best Practices provides a forum to learn from library experts and from each other's experiences.
- CPLA Advocate, the CPLA quarterly newsletter, keeps members informed about the organization's activities.
- FREE On-site Board Effectiveness Training. Trained volunteers help CPLA member library commissions, boards and advocacy groups to achieve their library goals for the benefit of their communities.
- The Legislative Committee informs members about legislation effecting libraries and alerts them to join in lobbying efforts at appropriate times.
- The Awards Committee publicizes services to libraries by annual recognition of outstanding contributions by individuals or organizations.
- The CPLA website, www.cpladvocates.org, provides a body of resources to strengthen California libraries through advocacy and education.

YOU NEED CPLA

This is your state organization for library advocates of every kind! Commissioners, Trustees, Friends and Foundations alike! Together we can keep California libraries thriving!

CPLA NEEDS YOU

ABOUT CPLA

California Public Library Advocates consists of Friends, Foundations, present and former library Trustees and Commissioners, Library system advisory board members, library directors, library staff and other library supporters. Its purposes are to:

- Help unite Trustees, Commissioners, Friends and Foundation Board members and staff who work on library advocacy so that they can carry out their duties and responsibilities more successfully.
- Provide opportunities to Friends, Foundations, Trustees and Commissioners for enrichment, networking and peer-to-peer communication.
- Provide all library advocates the opportunity of working together on statewide library issues.
- Recognize outstanding accomplishments and contributions to library service by individuals and organizations throughout California.
- Cooperate with programs of the California Library Association and the California State Library.
